

Business Member Juliane Pfeffer of Rogers, Ark., gets a visit from Paula Deen!

Juliane Pfeffer's catering business has been inspired by her love of all things food and by other gifted cooks, like Paula Deen. This made Paula's holiday visit to Juliane's home all the more poignant as Paula has built her own Southern cooking empire from scratch. Both women share an inspired vision in creating their own future and sharing their success and delightful dishes with others.

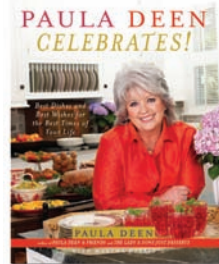

Member to Member, chef to chef, woman to woman, Juliane and Paula chat like old friends over Juliane's original recipes and her homage to Paula's classics. From holiday decorating to building their own businesses, these two women found more in common than the food they both relish making and serving. Whether for your own holiday gathering or simply for a weekend dinner, these and other recipes and entertaining tips can be found on samsclub.com/entertaining.
